

MINERS OUT ALIVE
FROM THEIR TOMBNINE MEN RELEASED FROM THE PEWABIC.

Relieving Party Hears Their Voices
An Hour Before the Rescue is Accomplished—Fatal Wreck Near Peoria—Presence of Mind of an Engineer Saves Many Lives.

Ishpeming, July 19.—All the men entombed in the Pewabic iron mine were gotten out alive, just after midnight this morning. By 11 o'clock last night the large force of workmen in the rescue party under the direction of Superintendent Clark, had reached a point within a few feet of the men, and could distinguish their voices, and were in momentary expectation of reaching them. While it is not known whether all the men have escaped injury it is hoped that such is the case. The list of those in the mine is as follows: Frank Bowden, Edward Webb, Peter J. Carbon, T. F. Johnson, M. Somera, Paul Farretti, James Canino, M. Ruani, Anse Fleming.

FATAL TRAIN WRECK AT PEORIA.
One Killed and Several Hurt in a Railroad Collision.

Peoria, Ill., July 19.—A disastrous railroad wreck occurred between this city and Pekin last evening at 9:30 o'clock, which resulted in the death of Martha Wright of Eureka and the serious injury of several others. The wreck was occasioned by the washouts on the Peoria and Pekin Union tracks, which lie close to the river. The dead:

WRIGHT, MARTHA, Eureka, Ill.

The injured are:

Cohen, J. H., New York, severely cut on head and face.

Fisher, Fries, Peoria, head cut, shoulder broken.

Mooney, Andrew, Peoria, deputy U. S. marshal, head cut and back strained.

Voris, Edward, Peoria, son of Deputy United States Marshal Voris, injured about back and head, may die.

At least half a dozen more were slightly injured, but not enough so to be taken to the hospital. Assistance was sent from both Peoria and Pekin and the dead and injured brought to Peoria for the night. The wreck created the greatest excitement here, everyone having expected something of the kind to occur, owing to the very uncertain condition of all tracks lying along the river on account of the recent floods.

The Big Four passenger train due at Peoria at 7:30 o'clock left Pekin at 6:55, eleven minutes late, and ran slowly on account of the washouts. At four miles this side of Pekin the train stopped, the track being undermined. A Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis passenger train came up a few minutes later and stopped within 500 feet of the Big Four train.

A freight which left Pekin a few minutes after the Big Four train was the cause of the wreck. It came at a high rate of speed and dashed around a curve and struck into the Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis passenger, telescoping one coach, while two grain cars of the freight were pushed on either side of the passenger.

At the same time the Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis engineer opened his throttle and pulled away from the freight in the hope of lessening the force. This threw the coach into the ditch and the greatest consternation ensued.

Martha Wright of Eureka, aged 18, alighted from her coach when the first trouble occurred, and in attempting to get out of the way of the falling car was carried with it to the ditch below, where her body was found two hours later, every bone being broken.

KILLED IN A SEWER.

Accident at Newark, N. J., the Result of Carelessness.

Newark, N. J., July 19.—Two men were killed, one fatally injured and two others frightfully maimed by the cave in of 600 tons of earth in a sewer excavation at Harrison at 3:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The dead are:

RYAN, DENNIS, 40 years old, Newark.

VILLAUD, GEORGE, 38 years old, Newark.

The injured:

McDonald, James, 40 years of age, Newark, both legs broken and internally injured; will die.

Brennan Thomas, 50 years old, cut about body, taken to the hospital.

The men were working twelve feet below the surface in a sewer on Jersey street, near Fourth. They were with sixteen others. The sides of the excavation had been improperly braced and rain had undermined the sides. Without warning, 600 tons of earth gave way, carrying down bracing timbers and rock upon the laborers. Eleven of the men were saved from death by a shelf formed by the timbers.

HAS A NARROW ESCAPE.

Presence of Mind of an Engineer Saves Many Lives.

Utica, N. Y., July 19.—The passengers on the Montreal express on the Adirondack and St. Lawrence railroad had a thrilling experience yesterday afternoon. As the train rounded a curve on a heavy down grade seven miles above the Fulton chain of lakes the engineer, William Brassell of Utica, saw 500 feet in front of him a trestle a quarter of a mile long enveloped in flames. The flames were shooting twenty feet above the track. It was impossible to stop the train before the trestle was reached. With lightning-like decision the engineer threw the throttle wide open. The train rushed swaying through the flames and stopped safe on the other side of the structure. Before it came to a standstill the burning trestle fell in a heap of ruins on the rocks fifty feet below. There were seventy-five passengers on the train, but the train passed the trestle before they fairly realized their danger. The flames shut off the view from the car windows as they went over.

ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE.

Report on Finance Causes a Hot Discussion Yesterday.

Springfield, Ill., July 19.—The report of the republican special committee on state revenues, submitted by Senator Dunlap Wednesday, came up as a special order yesterday in the senate right after the reading of the journal. Senator McKinlay submitted a minority report for the democrats which is identical with that of the minority of the house. Senator Littler's motion to refer both reports to the finance committee of the senate provoked a violent debate among the republicans, the democratic members being spectators.

Finally, on motion of Senator Dunlap, the minority report was laid on the table by a vote of 28 to 12. The majority report was then adopted by a vote of 28 to 13.

Bills were introduced as follows: By Bogardus, to create a state board of arbitration; by Dunlap, making appropriations to pay the expenses of employees at the special session of the general assembly; by Wall, to fix the maximum rates to be charged for sleeping cars. The senate then adjourned until 10 o'clock to-day.

In the house Mr. Merriam introduced a bill to punish bribery of members of the general assembly. Mr. Merriam also introduced a bill to punish fraudulent alterations of bills and resolutions after the same have been passed by the general assembly. The house went into committee of the whole to further consider the arbitration bill. An amendment was adopted making the provisions of the bill apply to all employers employing twenty-five or more persons in the same line. The committee rose and the house took a recess to 2:30 without completing consideration of the bill.

When the house met then, after considerable debate and much amending in committee of the whole, Mr. Hogan's arbitration bill was ordered engrossed and sent to third reading. All other bills on the same subject were laid on the table.

When the extra session of the Legislature convened a committee of the joint caucus of the Republican members was appointed to consider the tax levy. This committee reported that the levy was sufficient, and the report was adopted by the house upon presentation, and the Senate approved it. The committee estimated the amount to be received under the inheritance-tax law at $1,000,000.

During the recess the Supreme Court of Ohio held that a similar law was unconstitutional. Should the Illinois law be held invalid it would seriously affect the condition of the State treasury. The Republican members of the house held a caucus yesterday immediately after the adjournment of that body. Mr. Berry presided, and, after a lengthy discussion, it was decided, on motion of Mr. Shanahan, to invite the Republican Senators to meet in joint caucus next Tuesday afternoon to determine the policy to be pursued during the present extra session.

INDIANA MYSTERY SOLVED.

Body of Louella Mabbitt, Killed Ten Years Ago, Found.

Frankfort, Ind., July 19.—A discovery made yesterday of a skeleton of a woman in an old, abandoned well near Burlington, fifteen miles northeast of here, has created a tremendous sensation by reviving the greatest murder mystery in the history of Indiana. The body has been identified as that of Miss Louella Mabbitt, who mysteriously disappeared ten years ago, and for whose murder her lover, Omer, Green, was lynched.

About ten years ago Miss Louella Mabbitt, daughter of one of the leading citizens of Carroll county, and herself a woman of rare beauty and a leader in society, left her home in the evening with her accepted suitor, Omer Green, a man of wealth and widely known. She failed to return home, and searching parties were organized. Green claimed to have let her out of his buggy at her home, and for a few days appeared distracted with grief and led searching parties everywhere.

Evidence that indicated Green's guilt began to accumulate and he suddenly disappeared. At a bound popular excitement sprang to a frenzy. Almost the entire population of Clinton, Cass, Carroll, Howard and Tippecanoe counties joined in the search. Cellars and wells were explored everywhere and every suspicious looking mound of earth was dug up. The Wabash river was dragged for fifty miles, but the body of the woman was not found. Green was finally captured by the noted detective Buck Stanley in Texas after two years' search and brought back to the scene of the supposed crime. He refused to say whether the girl was dead or alive. He was placed in jail at Delphi. A few days later fully 2,000 men took him from the jail, drove him to the Mabbitt home and lynched him. The father of the girl, who was very wealthy, spent all of his possessions following up any clue, believing his daughter yet alive. The discovery of the body in the well was made by workmen who were cleaning it out, it having remained unused for nearly twenty years. Green was last seen with the girl less than a mile from the well, which at that time was covered over with planks and earth, and but few knew of its existence. There is no doubt as to the identity of the remains, and the general verdict is that at last Indiana's greatest murder mystery has been solved.

Was on a Murderous Rampage.

Zanesville, Ohio, July 19.—Henry Stenecke, one of the most prominent residents of Cambridge, entered his home yesterday afternoon armed with a revolver and fired two shots at his wife, one of which inflicted a flesh wound. He also fired several shots at his three children, none of which took effect. Stenecke then sent a bullet into his own head, killing himself instantly.

Charged with Election Frauds.

Chicago, Ill., July 19.—As a result of great frauds discovered in the recount of the Belknap-McGann ballots, election judges and clerks are summoned to appear to-day at 2 o'clock before the Board of Election Commissioners, and tell of their connection with the apparent robbery. An expose of election frauds is promised.

SINGLE SCULL CUP
GOES TO M'DOWELLCHICAGOAN IS CHAMPION OF
THE UNITED STATES.

Race Rowed at Saratoga This Morning
—Robert J. Goes a Mile in 2:03 Just to Show That He Still Has Four Legs—Sanger's New Record.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 19.—E. A. McDowell of Chicago won the single scull race this morning, this making him the champion oarsman of the United States.

Robert J.'s Fast Mile.

Saginaw, Mich., July 19.—Yesterday Robert J. went an exhibition mile paced by a runner. The track was fully a second and a half slow and a strong wind was blowing. The first quarter was made in 1:31½, half in 1:02½, three-quarters in 1:32½ and the full mile in 2:03, the fastest mile ever made so early in the season, and by a second the fastest mile made in the state. The little black pacer, Directly, then went a mile to beat his record of 2:07½. He got away on the second score and reached the quarter in 0:32, the half in 1:04½, the three-quarters in 1:36, the mile in 2:07½, being the state record for 3-year olds.

Sanger's New Record.

Saginaw, Mich., July 19.—In the special bicycle races at the race track here yesterday Sanger and Taylor went a mile dash for a purse of $500. Sanger won by a head in 2:01½. The sensation of the day was when Sanger rode a mile to beat the track record of 2:04 1-5. He finished in 2:00 flat, making a new world's record for bicycles on a trotting track.

Omaha Not a Good Baseball Town.

Omaha, Neb., July 19.—Owing to continued poor business the Western Association has decided to abandon Omaha after Sunday's game. Efforts are being made to keep Omaha in the circuit, but competent authority gives it out that this cannot be done.

BOYS MURDER THEIR MOTHER.

Shocking Case of Juvenile Depravity in London.

London, July 19.—A most horrible case of juvenile depravity and brutality has come to light in Plaistow, an eastern suburb of London. Two boys, named Combes, aged respectively 13 and 11 years, were brought before a magistrate upon the charge of having murdered their mother, and the accusation was substantiated by their own confession of the crime. The boys killed their mother by stabbing her through the heart ten days ago, since which time they have occupied the house alone with the woman's fast-decomposing body. After the boys committed the crime they pawned a number of valuables they found in the house and proceeded to enjoy themselves by trips to various places on the river and in the interior, visiting cricket grounds and indulging in other forms of amusement. When they were arrested they were playing cards in the house, containing the decomposing remains of their mother, and apparently getting the highest degree of enjoyment from their pastime, despite the stench which pervaded the rooms. The crime has created a great sensation in London.

TORNADO DOES DAMAGE.

The City of Pekin, Ill., Swept by a Cyclone.

Peoria, Ill., July 19.—Pekin, the county seat of Tazewell county, was swept by a cyclone yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock and the damage will be severe. At a few minutes before 5 the storm came with all the fury of a westerner and went through the town, making a course between Second and Third streets. It was accompanied with a heavy rain and hail. Buildings were unroofed and overturned, trees uprooted and the telephone and telegraph wires in the path of the storm were leveled. In some instances the poles were snapped off.

Some anxiety is felt over a party of 100 townspeople who are camping at Mackinaw falls below the town, no word having come from them. The town is in complete darkness, the electric light plant and wires being injured by the storm. Fortunately, there was no loss of life, although the narrow escapes were many.

TO ESCAPE THE NOOSE.

Holmes May Plead Guilty to Murder of Howard Pictel at Detroit.

Toronto, Ont., July 19.—Advices from Philadelphia say that H. H. Holmes intends to plead guilty to the murder of Howard Pictel in Detroit. Holmes' sentence in that state would prevent his being extradited to stand trial on the charge of murdering the Pictel children in Toronto and by this means he might escape the gallows, as there is no capital punishment in Michigan.

Philadelphia, July 19.—District Attorney Graham says the reasonableness of the theory that Holmes killed Pictel at 1216 Callowhill street, this city, is apparent, and whether the prisoner shall be tried here for the murder of Pictel in this jurisdiction or be taken to Toronto to be tried for the murder of the two little girls depends upon circumstances, but the public may rest assured that no effort will be spared to bring this great criminal to justice, where he shall be made to suffer the penalties of his misdoings.

Twelve Years for a Deacon.

Ukiah, Cal., July 19.—Deacon Oldham, the prominent Baptist churchman on trial for stage robbery, was sentenced to twelve years in Folsom Prison. Oldham planned the robbery in which Hilton, who was in the deacon's employ, was the principal. They divided $1,000. Hilton, the principal, received only eight years.

RAIN IN NEBRASKA
A BOON TO FARMERSIT ALMOST SHOWED GOLD
DOLLARS TODAY.

Corn Crop Needed the Moisture Greatly and Has Been Much Benefitted—Minnesota Suffers From the Storm of Yesterday—Most Severe in Several Years.

Omaha, July 19.—Thousands of dollars were put in the pockets of farmers by rain, which fell throughout the state today.

St. Paul, Minn., July 19.—The storm which struck this section at 1 o'clock yesterday morning was the severest in several years, the fall of rain in St. Paul and Minneapolis being over two inches. The destruction was greatest along the river between St. Paul and La Crosse, the washouts on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul being so serious that trains could not run on that road. Several of the lines afternoon trains, including the fast mail, were brought in many hours late over the Burlington's tracks. Joseph Polz, who resided in Bloomington Prairie township, Steele county, was struck by lightning and instantly killed.

A cyclone struck and wrecked William Hollenback's house on White river, South Dakota. It would have killed or seriously injured himself and family had they not taken refuge in a cyclone cave. In the southern part of Beadle county, South Dakota, the wind overturned a house on the Tom Harvey farm, occupied by John Thomas and family. Coffey, Thomas' brother-in-law, was seriously and Thomas slightly injured. The house was wrecked and sheds and barns twisted out of shape.

STRIKERS IN MEETING.

They Are Quiet and Orderly at Ishpeming and More United.

Ishpeming, Mich., July 19.—There is no material change in the situation in the strike of the miners in the Twin Cities. Yesterday was passed in holding mass-meetings and street parading. Brass bands have been out in both cities and banners bearing the strikers' grievances have been displayed. The men are keeping sober and are well behaved, hence no immediate trouble is anticipated. The mass-meeting yesterday was the largest yet held, there being fully 4,000 present. The men are more united than they were previously and are getting themselves in shape for an extended lay-off. The strikers assert that they will not present their grievances to the companies, but will wait until the companies come to them. All operations have ceased and the companies report no effort will be made to resume work for the present at least. One of the miners who is not taking part in the strike has received threatening letters.

Insurgent Troops Defeated.

Havana, July 19.—General Lague, having been informed that the insurgent leader, Bermudez, intended to burn the village of San Diego del Valle, province of Santa Clara, ordered a detachment of 130 men of the marine infantry and fifteen volunteers to defend that place. The troops upon arriving at the scene of operations found that the village was surrounded by about 300 insurgents, who had been keeping up a heavy fire upon the little garrison. The latter resisted gallantly until the reinforcements arrived, when the marines under Captain Duenas attacked, routed and dispersed the insurgents, who left twelve dead and twenty wounded on the field. Bermudez was wounded. The troops lost three killed.

Luscombe Murder Trial.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 19.—The widow of Emil Sanger was the central figure in yesterday's session of the Luscombe murder trial. Mrs. Sanger was placed upon the stand by the state, which began its rebuttal testimony in the afternoon. Mrs. Sanger gave her testimony in a cool manner and appeared not to be affected by the surroundings. All the evidence introduced has tended to show that Sanger had many times made threats against the life of Luscombe, and an acquittal is confidently expected.

ALL CREEDS GATHER IN TORONTO.

Congress of Religion and Education—City Filled With Visitors.

Toronto, Ont., July 19.—Toronto is entertaining the most distinguished gathering of noted men and women that has ever assembled within its borders. At its leading hotels, or at the residences of its representative citizens, are to be found members of the clergy, philanthropists, educators and statesmen gathered from every part of the dominion and the United States. They are here as delegates to the second pan-American congress of religion and education, which opened for a week's session this afternoon. The congress grows out of the similar movement inaugurated in Chicago during the world's fair, and which will live in history for all time. The present congress was promoted by a general executive committee headed by Archbishop Ireland, Roman Catholic; Bishop Vincent, Methodist, and Bishop Gilbert, Protestant Episcopal, and includes in its membership President Rogers, of Northwestern University; President Harper, of Chicago University; Rabbi Lazarus, of Toronto; Rev. Dr. Wilcox, of Lafayette, Ind., ex-Congressman A. L. Conger and Dr. H. E. Bennett, of Akron, Ohio; Dr. David Burrell, of New York, and numerous others. Preparations for the congress have been in progress since the beginning of the year, and its deliberations are expected to have a wide influence in the field of religion, education and philanthropy.

The large pavilion at the Horticultural Gardens was crowded to the doors when the congress was formally opened. The gathering was called to order by the president of the congress, Rev. Samuel G. Smith, of St. Paul, Minn., and after devotional exercises, welcoming speeches were made and answered. The calling of the roll and appointment of committees occupied considerable time, and adjournment was taken until evening, when President Smith read his inaugural address, and President C. C. Bonney, of the congress of '93, spoke on "Unity and Peace in the World."

Mrs. Charles Henrotin, of Chicago, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs of America, made a bright address.

TEN THOUSAND YOUNG BAPTISTS.

Fifth International Convention Opens in a Mammoth Tent at Baltimore.

Baltimore, July 19.—On the heels of the great gathering of the Christian Endeavorers at Boston comes the assembling in this city of the hosts of the Baptist Young People's Union of America. It is the fifth international convention of the organization, and the 15,000 delegates, who have brought with them nearly as many of their kindred, come from every section of the state in the union, as well as from Canada and from Mexico. Owing to the fact that Baltimore has no hall large enough to accommodate so great a gathering, a mammoth tent has been erected at the Madison street entrance to Druid Hill Park, which is said to be the largest stretch of canvas ever put up in the world. It affords space for 12,000 chairs, covers a tract of land 325 by 195 feet, and is supported by poles fifty feet in height.

Under the shelter of this great canvas 10,000 delegates assembled yesterday when the convention was called to order by President Chapman of Chicago. The devotional exercises, which were characterized by great enthusiasm and fervor, were led by Rev. C. A. Hoobs of Delavan, Wis. Praise and prayer occupied nearly half an hour, and welcoming addresses were then in order. Dr. Frank L. Williams read the general report of the general managers, and after this document had been disposed of without discussion two brief addresses were delivered, one upon culture for service, by Rev. Dr. Wallace of Toronto, and the other upon the Junior Society as the hope of the movement, by Rev. R. D. Grant, of Portland, Oregon.

The afternoon session was prefaced by a praise service led by Rev. L. B. Thomas, of Colorado Springs, and the convention resolved itself into an open parliament, at which systematic and proportionate giving was discussed by a number of speakers.

The nominating and other committees of the convention were announced, after which General Secretary Wilkins presented his annual report, which stated that the first convention of the Baptists Young People's union was held at Chicago four years ago, with representatives from nine states present. To-day there are thirty-one states organized, and, in addition, there are representatives from two provinces of Canada. Last year was the best that the union has seen. Enthusiasm for the movement was greatly increased by the Toronto convention last year. Great progress has been made in the spirit of federation and good-fellowship, and this year the east and the west, the north and the south meet in union and harmony, all working for one end.

There are now fifteen Baptist papers which print the weekly bible-readers' course. The Baptist Union has increased in circulation since last year, the total number on the mailing list now being 27,646. Illinois has the largest number of subscribers. The total amount earned for advertising in the union last year was $11,166.27. The report of the business manager shows that during the year ended June 30, 1895, he expended $5,675.63 for literature, etc., other than the Union; that he sold the same for $8,051.53, leaving a gross profit of $2,375.90. The founding fund has been increased by $14,358.99 during the last year.

At night there was a presentation of Christian Culture banners for Junior work, and a field review of Baptist schools, President W. R. Harper of the University of Chicago presiding.

Agriculturists Elect Officers.

Denver, Colo., July 19.—The Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experimental Stations, which is holding its ninth annual convention in this city, elected S. W. Johnson, Connecticut, president. Other officers were also elected. Minneapolis was chosen as the place for the next meeting.

HE FIGHTS INDIANS WITH STATE TROOPSGOVERNOR REFUSES AID OF CHEYENNE VOLUNTEERS.

Militia Ordered to Be in Readiness for Movements—Arms Bought for Evicted Tenants—Committee From Pender Secures Arms and Ammunition From Omaha.

Cheyenne, July 19.—The governor today declined the offer of volunteers to fight the Indians. He has ordered the militia to be in readiness for movement, and will rely on state forces.

Omaha, Neb., July 19.—Messrs. Peebles and Harris, who came to Omaha Wednesday night from Pender as a committee to secure rifles for the evicted tenants, yesterday afternoon announced that they had completed their mission, saying: "We have secured the guns which we came for. We were unable to get exactly what we wanted, but did the best we could. The wholesalers managed to get together for us 100 rifles and shotguns and 5,000 rounds of ammunition. We had to take rifles of two different makes and of several different sizes. We expect to gain our point by a show of strength, although in case of trouble we are ready to stand by Sheriff Mullin in anything that he may order."

THEY TALK OF "THE ACT OF 1873."

Messrs. Harvey and Horr Discuss the Nation's Congress—A Recess Today.

Chicago, July 19.—When the third session of the Horr-Harvey debate began at 11 o'clock yesterday there was a smaller audience present than on the preceding occasions. This was probably due to the change of hours for holding the debate. Apparently it was not as convenient for bankers and business men to attend a session beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning and lasting three hours as to attend one from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon. In the closing hour of the debate the audience was largely increased, as a whole being equal to the attendance of the first and second days.

The discussion yesterday was mainly on the congressional legislation in the '70's on the silver question. At the outset Mr. Harvey started to establish "the crime of 1873," and his statements regarding the manner in which the bill was passed were startling.

He arraigned the nation's congress for selling the nation's birthright; he branded the statesmen who did the work of 1873 as corrupted, and was stopped only long enough to say that before concluding he would show convincing authority. After an indictment against the promoters of the gold standard, which found that the bill which demonetized silver was not the bill which was read in the house, he passed on to a review of European political crime. He ended with the assurance that documents he would show were good for his every statement.

Mr. Horr in vigorous language contradicted the assertions of Mr. Harvey, and declared that there was no evidence of corruption of congress concerning the passage of the act demonetizing silver. There was a battle royal on this topic, and the two champions won frequent applause.

At the conclusion of the arguments of the speakers a number of questions were submitted by members of the audience and answered by Messrs. Horr and Harvey. The session ended shortly after 1 o'clock. At the request of Mr. Horr the debate will be suspended to-day and resumed at 1 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

FOREST FIRES IN MICHIGAN.

Considerable Property Destroyed in Northern Sections.

Galesburg, Mich., July 19.—The fire in the marsh south of here is eating its way to the uplands. A change in the direction of the wind has caused the destruction of the greater portion of some 600 cords of firewood, and the blaze has reached the farm of Mr. Lefever, on the outskirts of the marsh. The big marsh southwest from here is also on fire and the crops on the extensive peppermint farms are being destroyed. Heavy fires are also reported at Big Rapids, Sunfield, Napoleon, Muskegon and Plainfield, Wis.

Thinks He Has Found Fraker.

Topeka, Kas., July 19.—A communication has been received by Gov. Morrill from Acting Secretary of State A. S. Adee, which tells of the alleged discovery of Dr. Fraker, who is so badly wanted by several insurance companies.

Miners' Scale Settled Indefinitely.

Joliet, Ill., July 19.—The adjourned meeting between the mine-owners and miners of Illinois was held here yesterday. Patrick McBride, Secretary of the United Mineworkers of America, was present, and also James O'Connor, President of the State association. Representatives of the operators in the La Salle, Streator and Wilmington districts were in attendance. They represented also a soft coal association including the three districts. Resolutions were passed which settle the wage question indefinitely. They are to the effect that any reduction in the mining scale of Northern Illinois be postponed until after the next meeting of the joint board.

12,949 PEOPLE LIVE IN THE GOOD TOWN

STATE CENSUS ENUMERATORS COMPLETE THEIR WORK.

Total Number is Much Smaller Than Was Generally Expected as the Directory and Election Returns Indicated a Large Total—Some Statistics.

Only 12,949 people live in this town. That's what the state census, the taking of which has just been completed, says.

And you can't get around around it.

But—

It is a great disappointment to Janesville people.

There is hardly a person in Janesville who has taken a drive about the new additions to the city, but what would say that the Bower City's population would run as high as 15,000 people.

When the last directory was gotten out the preface said:

"A great deal has been said of late regarding the population and a great many estimates have been made and accepted as reliable, but taking into consideration the great care exercised in collecting and compiling the names, we claim for this directory the most complete returns ever made. The total number of names ascertained is 6,870. Allowing the usual percentage for firm names and duplicates we have 5,870 names (above the age of eighteen and not including wives), and by using the lowest multiple used by directory publishers, shows a population of 14,725."

What the Census Shows.

The ballot cast at the last election would indicate over fourteen thousand population, but of course the state census is nearer accurate than any estimate. All the figures are now to be had, and they tell the following tale:

First ward, total population..... 2485

Second ward, total population..... 2366

Third ward, total population..... 2773

Fourth ward, total population..... 3527

Fifth ward, total population..... 1818

Total..... 12,949

Quite a Ways From 15,000.

Still the population in 1890 was only 10,836 and a gain of 2133 in five years isn't bad.

The statistics by wards are as follows and develop some interesting facts.

First ward—Total population 2485; white males, 1195; females, 1290.

Colored, males, 7; females 4. Nativity—United States, 2119; Germany, 103; Great Britain, 88; Ireland, 66; France, 5; British, America, 28; Scandinavian, 63; all others countries 13.

Second ward—Total population 2366; white, male, 1087; female, 1275. Colored, male, 1; female 3. Nativity—United States, 2022; Germany, 115; Great Britain, 81; Ireland, 71; British America 40; Scandinavian, 10. All others countries 27.

MONTEREY'S MODEL MARKET.

William C. Kammer, The Proprietor, Planned The Two-story Structure Well.

If anybody doubts the assertion that Monterey has the prettiest and most convenient meat market in the city, he need only take a few minutes' walk to the corner of Western and Center avenues and ask Mr. Kammer, the proprietor of the market, to allow an inspection. The idea given on going in the door is of entering a Chicago market. Everything about the place, the tools, etc., are of late design. The floors throughout, are of hard pine; ceilings and walls are of hard wood, finished in oil. The fixtures are of the latest design and were furnished by Mr. Kammer by a St. Louis firm.

The refrigerator is especially large and handsome with every convenience for storing meats to advantage and also for filling with ice. The front of this piece of market furniture is covered with a large French plate glass mirror. Directly back of the market is the office, telephone room, etc., and leading from this the store-room. The market will be brilliantly lighted with incandescent lights. The basement of the building has a cement flooring and is fitted up with the latest machinery for the manufacture of sausages. The Buffalo chopper and mixer as well as the cooking boiler are of the latest designs. The sausage stuffer is a new machine lately put on the market and the only one in town. For power Mr. Kammer has put in a two horse electric motor and says that his sausage department has a capacity of 3,000 pounds a day.

The upper story of the building is finished off into a flat which the family will occupy.

A grand opening for the market is planned for Saturday. Five head of young cattle and sheep, lambs and calves, will be killed this afternoon and put in readiness. A special reduction for that day will be made in the price of all goods, and as Mr. Kammer has spent the past five years in the meat business in that locality he will undoubtedly have a large number of people to assist him in dedicating his new store.

Mr. Kammer's telephone number is 119. A call by phone will insure prompt delivery of meat to any part of the city.

DAYLIGHT THIEVES ROB MRS. L. S. BEST

BURGLARS RANSACK THE CITY LIBRARIAN'S HOME.

Gold Watch, a Locket and Other Jewelry Secured by Crooks Who Turned Every Room in the House Topsy Turvy—Stove Lifter and Spoon the Only Tools Used.

Daylight burglars turned Mrs. L. S. Best's home on Jackson street upside down and got away with a lady's gold watch, a valuable gold locket and several rings, stick pins and small bits of jewelry. They ripped open every bed tick in the house, ransacked all the drawers and emptied the contents of bureaus and trunks on the floor. Drawers that were locked were pried open with a big iron spoon and a stove lifter. Marks of these tools were found everywhere.

The work was done between one and five o'clock in the afternoon, Miss Addie Best, who is stenographer for City Attorney McElroy, discovered the robbery when she went home to get supper about ten minutes after five. She saw the floor covered with clothing and called the neighbors to make an examination. It was found that the thieves had forced open the back door and then entered Clifford Best's bed room. From there they had gone into every room in the house, upstairs and down.

The police are working on the case and have one man under arrest, a stranger who says he came in on the 12:30 train yesterday.

BLOOMERS INVADE OLD MILTON.

The Garb of the New Woman Seen in The Village—Census Figures.

MILTON, July 19.—The first bifurcated female bicycle costume seen in the village put in an appearance this week. The census of this village is 720, a gain of 35 over the last computation. An excursion train will be run to Palmyra and Waukesha next Thursday. Leaves here at 8:10 a. m. and arrives at Palmyra at 8:46; Waukesha at 9:30. Returning it leaves Waukesha at 7 p. m. Fare for round trip to Palmyra 75 cents; Waukesha $1.25. Invitations are out for the wedding of Professor Edwin Shaw and Miss Campbell. The ceremony takes place on next Wednesday. President Whitford left this week for the Pacific coast where he will spend several weeks sight seeing. Mrs. Whitford has gone east to visit relatives and attend the Seventh Day Baptist Conference, which meets next month. Richard Smith of Mason City, Iowa, has been visiting his old time friends here this week, making his Alexander homestead his headquarters. He holds his age well and seems to enjoy life. Mrs. J. D. Bond is in Chicago, being called there by the illness of her mother. The G. A. R. and W. R. C. picnic at Clear Lake was an enjoyable affair, seventy-five to one hundred were in attendance. Prof. D. O. Hibbard, who is principal of one of the Racine ward schools, shook hands with Milton friends Wednesday. Since his graduation from Milton college, Prof. Hibbard has been employed in teaching. This vacation he is on the road, representing a Racine hardware firm. O. E. Orcutt has rented a portion of Crosley & Maxson's double store and will put in a barber shop. C. H. Maxson and H. Clarke rode from Janesville, Wednesday in twenty-nine minutes, and made one stop. Misses Ellen and Margaret McGregor, of Janesville, are the guests of Mrs. J. Vincent. W. K. Davis, of the Journal, is enjoying an outing at Delavan Lake. Miss Dora Thayer, of Logan, Iowa, is visiting at F. E. Osborn's.

TEMPERANCE SERMON IN FULTON

Rev. E. M. Dunn To Deliver a New Discourse Sunday—Medal Contest Planned.

FULTON, July 19.—By special request Rev. E. M. Dunn, of Milton, will preach a new temperance sermon Sunday morning, which all are most cordially invited to hear. The W. C. T. U. are making preparations for a medal contest which will take place in the near future. Miss Thompson, of Ann Arbor, Mich., is visiting at Mrs. Wallen's and among other relatives for a short time. Mr. Carrier has two nieces, from the east, visiting here. Mrs. Charlie Dodge visited Mrs. Charlie Saxby Wednesday. James Clough combined business with pleasure in a trip to Janesville, Tuesday. O. P. Murwin disposed of business in Evansville Tuesday. Mrs. Maria Drown and Mrs. Annie Murwin, who were sent by W. C. T. U. as delegates to Janesville, made a very favorable report upon their return. All are glad to hear the building will not be sold this year and all hope that the fair will prove as never before a strong friend of temperance. W. Bigger and C. L. Brown attended the races in Janesville this week. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nash of Janesville, were in town Wednesday, the guests of H. W. Lee and family. Mrs. Osborn and family returned to Chicago Wednesday. Mrs. Stephen Saxby and Mrs. Sarah Atwood, passed last Monday and Tuesday with Mrs. Ida Pitcher in the town of Janesville. Our band was treated to ice cream by Alfred Clough, Wednesday evening. Misses Blanchard and Carrie Schofield, are in Janesville for a week. Mrs. Geary, mother of Mrs. Albert Rice, was buried last Friday afternoon. She was an old resident of the county, coming here to live in 1865. She was nearly eighty five years of age and mother of a large family of children. She has been an invalid for the past three years, and for the last fifteen years has lived with her daughter.

CONVENTION AT EMERALD GROVE.

Sunday School Workers Hold a Profitable Session—Fine Shower Helps Crops.

EMERALD GROVE, July 19.—An interesting and profitable Sunday school convention was held at the Congregational church last Sunday. H. M. Henry the county missionary took an acting part and added much in his profitable suggestions. J. T. Wright read a paper on the "Growing Purpose of the S. S.," this was followed by an interesting discussion opened by L. L. Olds of Clinton. The most earnest and forceful address of the day was by Rev. S. G. Huey on the subject—"How to make bible study more interesting and effective." It was a very powerful address. One of the happiest men in the town is Jerome Terwilliger. The only explanation—"It's a boy," makes one understand all about it. A fine shower of rain fell on Tuesday afternoon. It was accompanied by a full supply of electricity and wind but no damage was done. Mrs. G. Hammond has returned from a two weeks' visit with her parents at Kenosha. Gillies & Jones are selling fly nets and blankets very low. Get a look at them. Very little barley remains uncut. Chinch bugs are busy in the corn. The tobacco crop looks very favorable. Mrs. Alice Newmark and daughter, of Kenosha, Miss Kittie Blackman, of Kenosha, and Mrs. Andrews, of Hudson, Wis., are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Hammond. The Congregational Christian Endeavors have opened ice cream parlors in the old shoe store, where they will serve ice cream each Saturday evening until further notice. Mr. Hammond will conduct services at Smithton (Bradford Center) on next Sunday afternoon. Fly nets and fishing tackle at Gillies & Jones'. The Ladies' Aid society have very greatly added to the beauty of the church by having it handsomely papered, and the Christian Endeavor society have aided them in having it painted. Few country churches are as handsome.

LATE GOSSIP FROM FOOTVILLE.

Will Go in Business in the City—New Teacher Engaged.

COOKSVILLE, July 19.—G. E. Newman, Jr., and wife have been visiting relatives and friends. He is undecided whether he will start in business in Chicago or St. Louis. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Whaley spent several days with Cooksville friends. The Porter band cleared fifty dollars at their dance the Fourth. There were eighty-two tickets sold. Mrs. Vanberg of Edgerton, is visiting friends here. Miss Maud Ellis is engaged to teach here the coming term. She is from Whitewater. J. P. Van Vleet lost his pocket book, with five dollars in it. E. M. Stebbins is busy taking the census. Haying is over and the crop is light. The lawn social held at R. Speer's cleared seven dollars for the Congregational church. Mrs. Love has an aunt, Mrs. Brainard, of Oshkosh, visiting here. The school house is having a new coat of paint, which improves its looks.

GOOD PROGRAM FOR TOMORROW.

The 2:12 Class Trotting Race Is One of The Features.

Tomorrow's card is a good one and will develop the fastest trotting of the meeting as the 2:12 class with fourteen goods ones named and a purse large enough to be worth getting in on the card. Maud C. Klamoth, Kentucky Union, Senator A. Barozette, Nina Medium, Commodore Porter and other fast ones will meet and the winners will go in a new class next season. In addition to 2:12 trot, there is the 2:22 class trotting for a purse of $600. Tomorrow being the last day, the attendance will doubtless be very large.

JOHN KENYON DEAD IN ENGLAND.

Janesville Hotel Man Expires of Apoplexy—Adam Holt at the Funeral.

Many Janesville people will be surprised at reading of the death of John Kenyon, formerly proprietor of the European hotel, on Wall street, near the Northwestern passenger depot. Mr. Kenyon died at Preston, England, of apoplexy, either July 6 or 7. Adam Holt and two daughters are now visiting in England and attended Mr. Kenyon's funeral which was held July 8. Mr. Kenyon had lived in Janesville many years, being engaged in the hotel business most of the time. Some time ago he went to Europe, expecting to benefit his health.

When occasion demands its use, try De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. It is cooling to burns, stops pain instantly, cleanses, a perfect healer for scalds or skin eruptions. Always cures piles. C. D. Stevens.

Commercial Travelers to Meet.

A meeting of the Janesville Commercial Travelers association will be held at the Grand hotel Saturday evening July 20. Business connected with the recent picnic will be closed up.

Races At Milwaukee.

On account of the Jockey club meeting the C. & N. W. R. Y. Co. will sell round trip tickets to Milwaukee and return July 16 to 20, good to return on the day following date of sale, at one and one-third fare.

NEW WELL FLOWING FAST AS THE OLD

FIVE HUNDRED GALLONS A MINUTE IT GUSHES.

Drill is Down 920 Feet and is Working in Sand Stone—A Further Drop of Eighty Feet is Contemplated in Hopes of Getting a Heavier Stream.

The new artesian well is flowing today at the rate of five hundred gallons a minute, the capacity being about the same as that of the first well. The drill is down 920 feet, working in sandstone, or the water strata.

It is the intention to put this well down at least a thousand feet, perhaps a little deeper, in hopes of obtaining a heavier flow than in the first well. While no careful tests have been made, the opening of the second well does not seem to have any influence on the first. No decrease in the flow of water from the old well is noticeable, and it is thought there will be none.

MAIN STREET BOARDER MISSING.

One of Mrs. M. Siegers Household Has Skipped Without Saying Farewell.

A young man who has been working for the Marzluft Shoe Company and boarding with Mrs. Seiger on North Main street, has been falling behind from week to week on board money. When the board bill amounted to $9.65 Mrs. Seiger told him something must be done. The next morning he didn't appear and it didn't take long to find that the young man had quietly entered his room during the night secured all his belongings and skipped by the light of the moon. The police were at once notified but his whereabouts is still a mystery.

BIG CYCLE EVENT JULY 27.

The Sun Prairie Madison Road Race Will Draw Local Wheelmen.

A number from this city are interested in the Sun Prairie-Madison road race which takes place on July 27. The talk is that two Janesville cyclists will enter. The race is under the management of the Madison Cycling club and the course is over a twelve mile stretch. Thirty prizes will be given, the first prize will be a one hundred dollar wheel, while the time prize will be a fifty dollar medal.

RUSSIAN THISTLES IN BALED HAY.

Dealers Must Be Careful Where Their Supply Comes From This Fall.

Russian thistles are to be guarded against in the hay shipped into Janesville this fall. The local hay crop is light and dealers must look elsewhere for supplies. The greatest care should be taken to get none from a section of country where this miserable weed has found a lodgment. Farmers who may be obliged to buy hay to carry them through the winter should know where the hay they buy comes from.

All Kinds of Pants.

Thick pants. Thin pants. Heavy pants. Light pants. Short pants.

Any kind or sort of pants in fact, in our store; it makes no difference what they usually sold for, all the same now, $2.98 takes them. Never before has this opportunity of buying pants so cheap been offered. Think of it. $2.98. Frank H. Baack.

Keep Them Out.

Flies are bad; they like the mischief. Get a screen door of some kind, any kind. We have them at very low prices. Lowell Hardware Co.

YOUNG SPIRITS,

a vigorous body and robust strength, follow good health. But all fail when the vital powers are weakened. Nervous debility and loss of manly power result from bad habits, contracted by the young through ignorance of their ruinous consequences. Low spirits, melancholia, impaired memory, morose, or irritable temper, fear of impending calamity and a thousand and one derangements of body and mind, result from such pernicious practices. All these are permanently cured by improved methods of treatment without the patient leaving home.

A BABY CONTRADICTS THE DOCTORS.

All Are Happy, Glad, and Well.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

The theories of physicians in regard to female complaints suffer a "Waterloo" very frequently, when sensible and thinking women take matters into their own hands.

Women are sometimes compelled to act for themselves, because of the suffering forced upon them by incompetent doctors, who are baffled by very simple complaints, because they are not the right sex to comprehend them.

Lydia E. Pinkham, when she gave to the world her Vegetable Compound, lifted women from the darkness into light. She placed within their reach a guaranty, not only of health, but of delicacy and self-respect.

The following letter is a little story where a "dear little boy" was the "Waterloo."

"I have taken three bottles of your Vegetable Compound, one package of Sanative Wash, one box of Liver Pills; and now I have a dear little babe four weeks old, and I am well. I have to thank you for this."

"I was once a victim of female troubles in their worst form. I have suffered untold agonies every month; had to stay in bed, and have poultices applied, and then could not stand the pain."

"My physician told me if I became pregnant I would die. I had bladder trouble, itching, backache, catarrh of the stomach, hysteria, and heart trouble, fainting spells and leucorrhoea. Can you wonder that I sing the praises of a medicine that has cured me of all these ills?"

A MAN'S THOUGHTS.

Work, there is work to be done.
A whole day's work in a day.
From the rising sun to the setting sun
Work for all who may.

And the prayer of the working hand
Is the prayer of the working head.
The clamorous prayer of a hungry land—
"Give us our daily bread."

Fame, there is fame to be won.
A name that stands for a name,
The prize when the race shall be run
And the honors a victor may claim.

Gold and better than gold—
To conquer and leave no ban,
To live as giving, through praise and blame,
Assurance of a man.

—George Cotterell in Good Words.

DUPED BY A GIRL.

Texas might truly be called the "rogues' paradise" in 1850. "Horse dealers"—to give them their own chosen title—gamblers and counterfeiters, to say nothing of villains of still blacker grades, were predominant, and as a general thing ruled matters with a high hand.

Situated near the bank of one of the tributaries of the river Brazos were several farms, whose owners had chosen to settle together, the better to defend themselves and property.

Their most dreaded enemy and scourge of the country for miles around was a daring desperado known as Jack Wingrow.

Jack and his companions built a large, heavy loghouse, almost against a high bank of clay and sandstone, a few miles distant from the first settlers.

But, when the house appeared completed, work still went on, night and day, the men working by relays.

And then, at the end of several months, the strangers threw off the mask and appeared in their true colors.

They helped themselves to such stock as they most fancied, and when one settler, James Agden, resisted, a pistol shot shattered his right arm and left him a cripple for life.

The outlaw band grew stronger and more bold as they encountered but little resistance.

But Wingrow, king as he was among his men, had to succumb at last, and what armed force could not do the bright eyes and pretty face of a maiden accomplished.

Mabel Craythorne was the only child of the richest stockgrower of the settlement. Her father had suffered severely by the marauding outlaws and was still suffering from a bad wound before he gave up in despair.

But one day Wingrow caught sight of Mabel, and he did not escape without injury.

Knowing that his life was safe while his men remained to avenge him, he boldly called at the house of old Cyrus Craythorne and made a proposal.

He offered to cease troubling the settlement and to protect them from other outlaws provided Mabel should become his wife.

The indignant reply of the old man did not abash him in the least, and he took his departure, saying that he would expect their answer in one month's time.

George Mable was only a poor herdsman of her father's, but he was true hearted and brave. They learned to love each other, but as yet it was a secret from the father.

George mustered up courage at the outlaw's threat and asked the hand of his employer's daughter.

As soon as his astonishment would permit Mr. Craythorne bade him be gone, adding that if he would break up the band of desperadoes he might then renew his proposal.

The young folks managed to meet, and out of their despair grew a settled plan.

As a first move Mabel one day mounted her horse and rode down the creek.

When once beyond sight of the house, her animal's head was turned toward the hill, where stood the outlaw stronghold.

Approaching it, she rode more slowly and nervously herself for the trial.

"Good mornin, miss," the outlaw bowed. "How's the family?"

"Quite well, thank you. Mr. Wingrow, I believe?"

"Yes; so you know me?"

"I saw you at our house not long since. But I'm very thirsty. Can you tell me where I can get some water?"

"That's some fresh in the shanty. I'll git it ef'—"

"Oh, Mr. Wingrow, please let me go too! I've got such a curiosity to see what it is you keep so secret in there. Besides, I'm only a girl. I could not do you any harm if I would."

"I don't know. The men mightn't like it."

"You are master. Surely you do not care what they say? I don't believe you are afraid of what they think!"

"Jack Wingrow afraid! Not he! Let me help you to 'light."

While he placed her a chair and hastened to fetch the water, Mabel took a survey of the room.

Her eyes dwelt long upon the doorway where Wingrow had disappeared.

This was apparently the entrance to an underground vault.

Then, hearing the steps of the outlaw returning, Mabel hastily picked up a tasty morocco belt from the mantel, containing a brace of richly mounted pistols.

"Oh, Mr. Wingrow, where did you get these? They're just what I've been wanting for so long! You must bring them over some time for father to buy for me—won't you?"

"Do you like 'em? Ef you do, they're yours or anythin else I've got," eagerly replied Jack, and then, as Mabel hesitated, he clumsily buckled them around her waist.

From step to step she led the outlaw on until he repeated his offer, and Mabel hesitated—so admirably that a far more acute man than Wingrow would have been deceived.

"Well, I hardly know. Father has taken such a foolish dislike to you that I know he would not consent. I should dearly like such a life. Why, it would be equal to being a queen."

Gracefully effecting her escape, she rode slowly homeward, with a sickening feeling of disgust, mingled with exultation.

Day after day passed on, and while outwardly events pursued their usual course Mabel's plot was progressing rapidly.

Indeed it required all her skill and tact to keep Jack Wingrow in proper subjection.

But she was equal to the task, and once fairly started in the scheme she experienced a strange, wild pleasure in duping the infatuated outlaw.

George had taken his employer into their confidence and had selected several others whom he knew to be trustworthy, and upon whose aid he relied at the moment of action.

The outlaw chief had at length persuaded her, with great apparent difficulty, to consent to an elopement.

According to their plans, Jack Wingrow was to appoint himself as guard upon that particular night.

Only one man was needed, at any time, to act as such, for the cabin was so strongly built that an entrance could scarcely be effected by force even if un-defended.

But with a half score stout fellows at hand they could, as they thought, effectually defy any force that might be brought against them.

Mabel was to arrive about midnight and rap lightly upon the door, Wingrow would open, and then, mounting their steeds, they were to leave the cabin to care for itself until their flight was discovered.

The appointed night came at length, and all was ready.

Mabel and George, leading their five companions, fully armed and resolved to conquer at all risks, rode out from the settlement and proceeded toward the outlaw stronghold.

The men crept as close to the door as they dared to, crouching low down in the shade. Then Mabel advanced and gave the signal.

A low voice called her by name, and as she replied the door opened and Jack Wingrow emerged.

"Hist, don't make no noise. The men are all asleep. Let me"—and he strove to embrace the maiden, who avoided him and stepped back.

Like a hungry panther, George Mable sprang forward.

Without a struggle Wingrow was thrown down and hastily bound and gagged.

Then the settlers noiselessly entered the cabin and lighted the lamps until all within was light as day.

The heavy slab door leading into the vault was partially closed and secured. Three men took their stations beside the entrance with clubbed rifles, while others stood with ready revolvers commanding the doorway.

Then George set up a loud cry of "Fire!"

The desperadoes flocked to the entrance, and one after another fell like logs, while the young herder continued his cries.

A wagon was procured, and the prisoners were taken to the settlement, where the next day they were tried and condemned to death.

Mr. Craythorne was as good as his word, and a week after Mabel became the wife of—not the penniless herdsman, but the landed gentleman.—Boston Globe.

"Aladdin," "Ali Baba."

Some years ago M. Zotenberg completely vindicated the literary integrity of Galland, who was long believed to have himself invented a number of the tales in "Les Mille et Une Nuits," and deliberately foisted them on the public as genuine Arabian compositions. As those tales—"Aladdin," "Ali Baba," "Prince Ahmed," the "Envious Sisters," etc.—are among the most fascinating in the whole of that famous story book, this was certainly paying a very high compliment to the great orientalist's inventive genius, if it did impugn his honesty.

Some candid scholars there were, however, who strongly maintained that, though those narratives were not to be found in any Arabic text of "El Layla wa Layla," Galland must have taken them down from the recitals of professional story tellers in the Levant.

But the question was finally settled when M. Zotenberg discovered them in a manuscript copy of "The Nights," which had been recently acquired for the national library at Paris, and published the Arabic text of the tale of Aladdin and his lamp, together with a monograph on the authenticity of the tales which had been hitherto commonly regarded as spurious.—Notes and Queries.

The Milk's Vital Statistics.

In Lambeth a milk vendor displayed on his barrow a tin plate setting forth that all the milk sold from "this establishment" was guaranteed pure as delivered at the dairy farm. An inspector purchased a pint for analysis and informed the milkman of its destination.

"All right," said the vendor. "There's its certificate of birth," and he tapped the tin plate with a milk can complacently.

"Perhaps I may be able to send you its certificate of baptism soon," answered the inspector, which he did in the form of a summons, which subsequently was transformed into a fine of £5 for adding 15 per cent of water.—London Telegraph.

Voyagers For Pleasure

Or business, persons on the point of taking an outing on land or sea, yachtsmen and tourists need and should be provided with some preventive of sea sickness and corrective of the occasional ill effects of accustomed air, food and water. Many nervous persons experience qualms akin to sea sickness when traveling by rail. They, too, require a medicinal safeguard. The best in existence is Hostetter's Stomach Bitter, which promptly relieves nausea, sick headache, biliousness, cramps and colic, &c. If business calls you to some locality where chills and fever or bilious remittent is prevalent, don't fail to provide yourself with it. For constipation, rheumatism and inactivity of the kidneys it is an excellent remedy. Eminent physicians commend it highly. Lay in a supply before you start by boat, steamer or train. It is a most serviceable traveling companion.

You Don't Have to Swear Off

says the St. Louis Journal of Agriculture in an editorial about No-To-Bac the famous tobacco habit cure. "We know of many cases cured by No-To-Bac, one, a prominent St. Louis architect, smoked and chewed for twenty years; two boxes cured him so that even the smell of tobacco makes him sick." No-To-Bac sold and guaranteed by E. B. Heimstreet. No cure, to pay. Book free. Sterling Remedy Co., New York or Chicago.

The most pleasant little pills for regulating the bowels, are De Witt's Little Early Risers. Cure sick headache and constipation. Small pill. Small dose. C. D. Stevens.

Narcoti-Cure

CURES THE TOBACCO HABIT
IN 4 TO 10 DAYS
OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Use All the Tobacco You Want Till Your "Craving" is Gone.

Narcoti-Cure is the only remedy in the world that acts directly on the nerves and drives the nicotine from the system in four to ten days. It leaves the patient in better health than before taking, and is warranted free from all injurious ingredients.

Narcoti-Cure is popular because it allows the patient to use all the tobacco he wants while under treatment, or until the "craving" and "hankering" are gone. It is then no sacrifice to throw away tobacco forever.

Narcoti-Cure is sold at the uniform price of $5 a bottle, and one bottle cures.

Money refunded if a cure is not affected when taken according to directions.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1824—Augustine Iturbide, emperor of Mexico, was executed; born 1783. Iturbide began his career as a most valiant and loyal soldier in the armies of the king of Spain and helped put down numerous insurrections by a rigorous hand. Finally he conceived a plan of independence and did not stop until the yoke of Spain was cast off forever. After REV. E. P. ROE, meeting with great opposition as president of the republic he was proclaimed emperor by the military. At length the strong opposition forced him to abdicate and leave the country. Returning to claim his crown, he was sentenced by the congress of the republic to immediate execution.

1845—Great fire in New York city; loss $10,000,000.

1857—Dorothea Lynde Dix, eminent philanthropist, died in Trenton; born in Worcester, Mass., 1802.

1888—Rev. Edward Payson Roe, the popular American novelist, died at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson; born 1837.

NOT MORE THAN 12969?

Couldn't the census enumerators have found a thousand or more people tucked away in odd corners?

Directory estimates a year ago showed a population of 14,700. This total is reached by multiplying the number of names enrolled by 24. Eight times out of ten the accuracy of the method is confirmed by official enumeration. In Janesville's case there was corroborative evidence in the election for governor. The city cast 2893 votes. It is universally estimated that the voting strength of a city represents one-fifth of its population, so there should be somewhere within the city limits 14,465 people. The fact that the election figures and the directory figures agree within 250 makes it seem as if the city was not getting quite a fair show in the latest count.

THE COTTON MILLS.

Without making much fuss the Janesville Cotton Mills company is buying stock and preparing for increased business. Profits have not been large in the cotton trade of late, but the fact that during the first half of the current year the number of new mills constructed in the United States was considerably larger than for the corresponding time last year is certainly a substantial evidence of restored confidence.

Such evidences of enterprise are especially cheering after a long period of depression. An interesting fact is that the projection of a large number of cotton mills in Massachusetts shows that there was no ground for the report some time ago that the tendency of textile industry was to leave northern centers and go to the cotton growing district.

There has been solid growth of the industry in the south, however, and this growth will give strength to the cause of protection in the section of the country where it needs to be strengthened. The new tariff bill made no material change in the duties on cotton goods, due to the influence of the cotton growing industry in the south and with the increase in that section the influence favorable to a reasonable measure of protection will grow stronger.

THEY SPOKE TOO LATE.

Messrs. Horr and Harvey are laboring prodigiously in Chicago, but have difficulty in getting a full house.

A few months ago everybody seemed to be interested in the silver question. Now everybody is tired of it and howling for a rest from it. Inquiry in the book stores shows that the demand for this kind of literature has fallen off from immense to nothing in a few weeks, and that its standard price is liable to descend from the fifty cents a volume of a month ago to a cent and a half a pound in a short time.

What to do with oats is the next question. There are 80,000 fewer horses to eat them than before the trolley and bicycle came into play. Two new kinds of bugs are trying to solve the problem in Rock county by diminishing the crop.

The bitter and unceasing plaints, the virtuously indignant remonstrances with which the democratic newspapers of New York have attacked Commissioner Roosevelt's enforcement of the Sunday liquor law of that city are really humorous reading.

Free coiners are filling the air with dust in Kentucky, but when the cloud subsides, Senator Joe Blackburn will get an invitation to step down into private life, and a sound money man will take his place. It may be a republican at that.

Why wouldn't it be well to let South Carolina or some other of the states far south furnish the republic can vice presidential candidate in 1896 and prove that the dead past had buried its dead.

The Rock county farmer who can afford to keep his fodder and feed it to his stock the coming winter will enjoy large profits next year.

When immigration picks up times are getting better. The last two months showed an expansion of 30 per cent over last year.

TRIED TO KILL VICTORIA.

Six Attempts Have Been Made on the Queen's Life.

Since her majesty came to the throne she has been the subject of six attacks, but only three of them can be described as attempts on her life. The first attack on the queen occurred on Constitution Hill, on June 10, 1840, soon after her marriage, the assailant being a pot boy named Edward Oxford. Two years later, on May 30, 1842, John Francis fired at the queen when within a few feet of her carriage. This outrage also took place on Constitution Hill. In July of the same year a crack-brained lad named Bean leveled a loaded pistol at her majesty, who was driving from Buckingham castle to the Chapel Royal, St. James, but the weapon missed fire. In May, 1850, Robert Pate, an ex-lieutenant in the hussars, as the royal carriage was emerging from the duke of Cambridge's gate, struck the queen with a stick, leaving a mark on her cheek and crushing her bonnet. In February, 1872, a youth named Arthur O'Connor presented an old and unloaded pistol at her majesty as she was entering Buckingham palace, and on March 2, 1882, a man named Roderick Maclean deliberately fired at the queen as she was driving from Windsor station to the castle, but no damage was done.—Westminster Gazette.

Each His Own Weather Prophet.

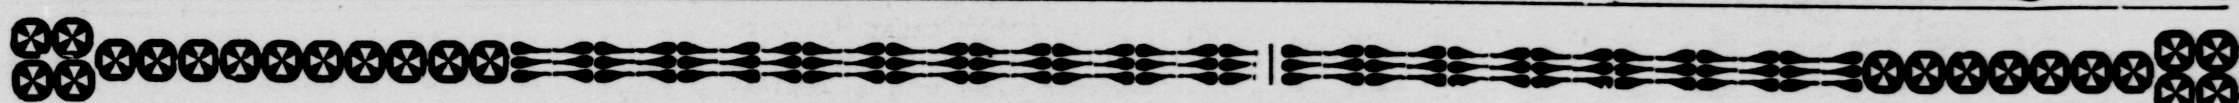

Every man who owns a bicycle is now his own weather prophet. He holds in his hand the long-sought solution of the problem how to make rain.

If his wheel gets muddy and he lets it stay so, clear weather will be assured. If he attempts to clean off the mud a shower will result within twelve hours. If he cleans and polishes the wheel so that it shines like new, a terrific thunder shower will fall as soon as he tries to go for a ride.

A large number of wheelmen have found this to be a fact and as you can't ride a wheel during wet weather, the fact that so many muddy wheels are seen proves that they are left dirty to avoid causing a rainstorm.—Louisville Post.

The Evil Eye.

Antiquity hath held that certain women of Scythia, being provoked and vexed against some men, had the power to kill them only with their looks. The Tortoises and Estriges hatch their eggs with their looks only, a sign that they have some ejaculative virtue. And concerning witches, they are said to have offensive and harme-working Eyes.

THE CIGARETTE HABIT.

How He Stopped It When His Friends Gave Him the Cold Shoulder.

"Did I ever tell you how I managed to cure myself of the cigarette habit?" asked a cholly the other day. I told him he had never explained the mystery to me, and that I had spent many sleepless nights in consequence. "Now, you are joking," he said, with his neat little lip, "but really, on the extremely deceased, I have stopped it entirely, and it was the easiest thing in the world. I used to smoke from four to five packages a day, and sometimes more. One day I made up my mind that I would quit. I do not mean that I would quit smoking, but I meant that I would stop buying them. I smoked those of my friends. Finally it became a bore to my friends to have me always asking for cigarettes, and they sometimes said they didn't have them. Thus, my charity smokes gradually became quite seldom. Finally there was not a young fellow who knew me who would give me a cigarette. By that time I had about gotten rid of the habit. One day I felt like I would enjoy one, and I bought a package before I thought, lit one, and it actually tasted so badly that I threw it and the package away. Since then I have never smoked. I do not use tobacco in any form. You may give this receipt to your friends if you desire. It cured me, and did the job quickly and effectively."

JANESVILLE HORSE MAKES A GOOD SHOWING.

Crowd on the Fair Grounds Big Enough
To Break Records—Billee Steinman Gets First Money in the 2:18 Class Pacing—Quarter Stretch Notes.

The fifth day of the best racing ever seen on the soil of the Badger state, was like all the rest—marked by a large attendance and fast time. There were four good events on the program beside the unfinished 2:29 pacing race. Billee Steinman seemed to be able to win this race about as he pleased yesterday, but darkness ended the contest after one heat had been gotten off. That heat was the seventh on the card and represented prompt work on the part of the starting judges who got off five races beside the odd heat in the 2:29 class. The latter race resulted as follows:

The 2:15 Pacing Class.
In the 2:15 pacing class, that promised to be one of the sensations of the meeting, there were 18 horses named. They were Dempsey, Flak, Nellie R., Emma Wilkes, Judge Hart, Shawhan, Miss William, Attempt, Nellie M., Nina T., Sir Edwin Arnold, Binley F., Drelincourt, Mayhill, G. A., Sphinxetta, Alice Director and Giles Nagers. At La Crose Flak got a heat in 2:13 and Sphinxetta got a heat in 2:12½ after which Badge, the Eastern horse that started in the 10 class here, won the race. However when they came out several horses had been drawn or scratched.

BARON ROGERS IS A FAST ONE

Baron Wilkes Horse Had The 2:15 Race All His Own Way.
Baron Rogers has things all her own way in the 2:15 class yesterday and won it in one, two, three order. Only offered a sturdy resistance and Aggie Sherman and Adelaide Simmons also aspired to take a hand the fun, but then ambition was for second money only. Monette ran away in the second heat but was not judged and his driver, George West, Jr., by the way, once had his leg broken at the Janesville track, escaped uninjured. Jimmie Hague clasped the thirty-three class trot and won as he pleased. Sum-

GOOD PROGRAM FOR TOMORROW.

The 2:12 Class Trotting Race Is One of The Features.
Tomorrow's card is a good one and will develop the fastest trotting of the meeting as the 2:12 class with fourteen goods ones named and a purse large enough to be worth getting is on the card. Maud C., Klamoth, Kentucky Union, Senator A., Barozette, Nina Medium, Commodore Porter and other fast ones will meet and the winners will go in a new class next season. In addition to 2:12 trot, there is the 2:22 class trotting for a purse of $600. Tomorrow being the last day, the attendance will doubtless be very large.

HEARD ON THE TRACK

When Officer Hogan telephoned down from the fair grounds yesterday for Chief Acheson to capture the two score-card boys, the chief was in a hot chase after them near the Miltimore place.

The wheel ran half an hour over time last evening, to accommodate a La Prairie sport who was playing it twenty-five cents at a time, and winning at that.

The coming and going of horses, this week, have made railroad yards lively. A number were loaded last evening bound for Freeport.

W. B. TRUAX, J. P. Lang, C. A. Goodsell, F. W. Moore and J. Logen looked after the interests of the city of Harvard, at the track.

Mrs. F. COLBY, of St. Paul, arrived in the city last evening. Her husband has one of the largest string of horses on the track.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Duggan, J. F. Fishman, L. F. Judson and H. H. Liddles of Delavan, saw the horses go.

SHERIFF APPLEBY received callers at the jail while Turnkey North picked a few winners at the track.

F. ROWE, J. S. Hulse, T. W. Cole and A. A. Snyder were Rockford representatives at the race track today.

EVERY stall on the grounds is in use this week and even the hen house has been turned into a barn.

MANY handsome turnouts are seen on the grounds, including a number of traps of the latest fashion.

NEVER before have there been so many tents and eating houses scattered through the grounds.

TELEGRAPH boys are fattening on the twenty-five cent delivery toll on race track messages.

MARSHAL GEORGE APPLEBY of Beloit, joined the police force on the grounds yesterday.

A LOCAL blacksmith shop was kept busy all day Sunday to accommodate the horsemen.

A NUMBER of light-fingered gentry have been seen in the crowd but have done no work.

A NUMBER of the large stables at the fair grounds have their own harness makers.

The majority of horses at the Janesville meet will go to Freeport next week.

SIX blacksmith shops are located near the track and follow the horsemen.

JOSH CORNING, the old time Janesville horseman, was on the grounds today.

H. B. HAMILTON and H. E. Stedman came from Berlin to attend the races.

AFTER each rain, the track has come out in better condition than before.

HORSEMEN think Janesville weather must have been made to order.

BADGE, the well known pacer will be shipped directly to Detroit.

SEVERAL first class harness shops are making the circuit.

C. J. JONES is getting rich off the bar privilege.

J. C. CHADWICK's trap attracts attention.

Kind Offer.
Impoliteness may sometimes, perhaps, be answered properly with impertinence. A struggling author went to an editor with a manuscript.

"Oh," exclaimed the editor, "don't bother me now. I've other fish to fry!"

"Well, I'll fry your fish for you," said the author, "while you read my manuscript!"

So the editor had to read it.

Summer Love.
Marjorie—That young man staying at the other cottage seems awfully nice.

Madge—But he's so slow. You would hardly believe it, but he has been out with me twice, and we're not engaged yet.—Judge.

CARS ARE CROWDED DURING RACE WEEK

THRONGS FROM OTHER CITIES PILING IN.

Aisles of the Evening Trains Out of Town are Jammed With Passengers—Every Neighboring City Sends a Delegation—Monona Lake Season Also Booms the Sale of Tickets.

Race week has had a marked effect on the railroads. Such crowds as have piled in were never seen at any other Janesville meeting.

"Do we notice it?" asked Ticket Agent Samuels. "Well, I should think we did. The swarms that have come in from Whitewater, Elkhorn, Edgerton, Rockford, Madison and Milwaukee have made our eyes stick out."

Agent Potter, of the C. & N. W. tells the same story. The week has been a record-breaker. Clinton, Harvard and Woodstock have all been depopulated for the benefit of the Bower City.

When the accommodation left the city last evening for Watertown, seats were at a premium and a great many had to stand up as far as Fort Atkinson.

Both roads are offering liberal inducements to race visitors and the same offer will extend to Freeport next week.

Another boom in ticket selling will be started by the opening of the Monona Lake assembly. The assembly is already attracting crowds and a good sized delegation left the city this morning to go into camp.

The Janesville crowd were joined by a number from Monroe, who will pitch their tents near the Janesville camp. Among those from here who will live under tents at Lakeside are J. C. Echlin and family and J. L. Ford and family.

RIGHT ROYAL TIME FOR SCOTS

Caledonians Hire Pipers and a Famous Woman Fencer For Their Games

The Caledonians have engaged the Royal Scotch Pipe and Drum band of Chicago for their games in August. Another attraction will be the appearance of Jaguarina, the greatest swordswoman in the world, who will give a broadsword contest with Miss Jean Gordon a new comer. Tugs of war between Edgerton and Milton, and Johnston and Emerald Grove are also slated.

SCORE CARD BOYS ARE SENTENCED

Judge Phelps Gives Them Twenty Days Apiece For Embezzlement

John Redmond and John Hines, the boys who gave the police such an exciting race yesterday afternoon got twenty days each this morning. They were selling score cards for Thomas Phillips and had $17 when they skeddaddled. Both boys are under sixteen years of age and say they live in Davenport, Iowa.

CUT WITH A POCKET KNIFE.

John Turney, of Fulton, May Lose One of His Fingers.

While John Turney was working with a knife in Fulton this morning, the blade slipped and went clear through his little finger and into the palm of his hand. Dr. W. H. Judd dressed the wound, and says Turney may lose the use of one finger.

GRAVES TOOK A HARD TUMBLE

Sewing Machine Man Falls From His Wagon This Noon.

W. H. Grave, the sewing machine agent drove too close to the corner of Court and Main streets this noon and the wagon seat slipped, taking him with it to the ground. He struck on his head, receiving a number of cuts and bruises.

PUNCHED HOLES IN A BIKE TIRE.

Navy Man Damaged One of F. Randall's Wheels Out of Sheer Cussedness.

A stranger walked into F. Randall's shop today and while the proprietor was busy, amused himself by sticking pins in the tires of a new wheel, thus letting out the air. He then walked out, and Mr. Randall discovered the damage too late.

MANY CITY GANGS AT WORK TODAY

THIRTY EIGHT MEN CLEANING THE STREETS.

Others of Commissioner Watson's Force Laying Cross Walks and Making Repairs—Fifteen Thousand Feet of Dirt to be Used in Filling Lots on Fifth Avenue.

Street Commissioner Watson covered pretty much the entire city today, but no one caught him with a sun umbrella or standing in the shade. He had a force of thirty-eight laborers at work cleaning the paved streets and a half dozen or more teams were kept moving, hauling away the mud which the workmen had scraped up into piles. Besides this extra force a large number of other workmen were engaged in building crosswalks, and in repaving streets outside the business center of the city. The commissioner had to move fast to keep everything running smoothly.

Much Dirt For Lot Filling.
Fifth avenue, where Brown & Ryan have begun work, is to be graded from Prospect avenue north to St. Mary's avenue. There will be about fifteen hundred yards of waste earth excavated, and the contractors expect to realize something from filling lots in the vicinity. Their bid for grading and graveling the avenue was 70½ cents per cubic yard, which is considered a very low price for that class of work.

"Had it not been for this extra earth," said Mr. Ryan this morning, "we could not have put in our low bid. We can sell 600 hundred yards of good earth to parties having low lots close to the work. This will enable us to come out nearly even."

The contractors will be obliged to buy gravel that is to be put on the street after completing the grade.

Bayles' Toasted Corn.
Not an entirely new article, and yet new to Janesville people is Bayles' toasted butter corn, put up in one-pound packages, and especially nice for lunches or dinner sidedish. If you have never tried it, better get a package at Dunn Bros.

W. H. HILL of Minneapolis, assistant superintendent of the United States Express Company, is in the city today, arranging to take a car load of race horses from here to Detroit by express.

HYGIENIC HINTS.

Tight Lacing and Red Noses—How to Reduce Flesh.

The following hints may be useful: Constant use of rouge makes the skin both thick and yellow, and the skin, once injured, is almost impossible to cure. A red nose is not an agreeable addition to any face. Tight lacing and cold feet are too often the cause. If the eyes are strained and inflamed with sleeplessness or fine work, apply to the lids soft linen wrung out in boiling water. Apply this as hot as can be borne, and relief will be felt in half an hour. Warts on the face are especially disagreeable to have. Rub them with raw potato, or steep fresh beef in vinegar for 24 hours, and then apply at night.

Much sensation has been created in France by the proposal of the female conscription bill. It is a theoretical idea, and one very unlikely to be adopted, but should it be by some unforeseen chance the cooking department seems one of the most suitable openings for women.

Several persons whose adipose has increased to a disagreeable pitch and whose waist lines are in danger of becoming nearly if not entirely obliterated have found great benefit from striking the front of the body with the flat hand, especially after a hot bath. The rapid and smart concussion is said to break some of the fat cells, or at least to soften them so that they can be absorbed. One ingenious hygienist has invented a method of flagellation that is at once simple and effective. A number of lengths of very soft rubber tubing are attached to pieces of rope. With these the back and shoulders are beaten by throwing the tubes over the shoulders first one side and then the other.

The sketch shows a walking gown of blue crepon, with a plain godet skirt. The blouse bodice has a plain back, the front being arranged with a sort of plastron of taffeta matching the crepon in color. This plastron forms a box plait, ornamented with two antique buttons and terminating at the top under a band of guipure. Guipure frames the plastron at the sides and is carried around the shoulders behind. The sleeves are tight below the elbow, having a balloon puff above it. The hat is of rye straw trimmed with changeable ribbon and roses. JUDIC CHOLLET.

MILLINERY NOTES.

Roses of Surprising Shades—Fancy Pins and Buckles.

Bonnets are decidedly larger this season, probably because fashion mixes her fabrics so incongruously and lays on color so vehemently. One model from Virot carried no fewer than 16 roses in four distinct colors, for nature no longer sounds the keynote of color. Flowers are reproduced artificially in all shades, natural and unnatural. The rose in particular is subject to marvelous liberties. She blossoms in purple and blue, and her lovely blush of red is toned to suit the modern Philistine. She is also garbed in crepon silk, and, in short, is subject to artistic travesties all round. The poppy is also now in every color and in crepon too. The orchid likewise suffers the same treatment. No botanical specimen escapes alterations and improvement at the hands of man, and the more it departs from its natural condition the more fashionable it appears to be.

OUT OF DOOR GOWN.

It is a roccoco age. Both hats and bonnets are ornamented with a variety of ornamental pins, some with enormous heads, in many devices, from that of a gargyle to a mediæval saint's head. Those in French paste are the prettiest, and nowadays such paste is inexpensive, thanks to commercial rivalry. Buckles, buttons, links and various ornaments are all at a figure that almost any one can compass.

Straw is the favored material for hats and bonnets. It is produced in all the fashionable tints, butter yellow, tabac, copper and a curious shade of red. The plait is in many designs, some showing cuplike excrescences and some worked with crepon strands. It is said that Queen Victoria is very fond of straw plaiting, which is now becoming a branch of the great department of fancy work, a more useful and practical branch than many that might be named.

The illustration shows a gown of beige moire crepon. The godet skirt forms a double box plait in front. The bodice has a similar plait falling in a slight blouse. The belt and draped collar are of begonia green velvet, the latter adorned with two clusters of Russian violets. The gigot sleeves are plain. A white Louis Seize fichu of plisse mousseline de sole trimmed with white lace covers the shoulders. The toque of beige straw is trimmed with begonia green ribbon and violets. JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE RAILROAD HOG.

There Are Six Varieties of Him and All Are Nuisances.

"The car hog is more and more in evidence every day," said a car conductor the other day to a World man. "The warm weather develops traits that have been dormant with the winter. I have counted six different varieties of the breed in a week. I used to be a raiser of stock in more prosperous days and I'm a good judge. The most common sort is that of the fellow who occupies more room than he needs; never sees that he could make room for anybody and is evidently the same when he is at home. I'll bet he's the man who gets the morning paper first, reads it to himself, gives no one else a chance and carries it downtown in his pocket.

"Then there's the fellow who crosses his legs and when any one seeks to pass simply turns his foot edgewise, so that twice as much dirt is rubbed off on a woman's dress and he gets half a shine for nothing. If a bigger man stands still and glares at him he will unfold his legs, but only then. This is the same animal who likes to stretch out in cross seats on the 'L' and clean his boots on the edge of the seat.

"The third of the species is less bold than his brothers. He is the chap who, when some one gets up, leaving a seat vacant, although there's a tired woman maybe next to him, plunges into the vacant spot, for she has had her back turned and the opportunity was—and always is—in fact, never neglected by him.

"The fourth sort is the rooster who reads another man's paper over his shoulder. I saw one the other day who was so interested in one article that he didn't see that the man who held the paper was furtively and amusedly regarding him. The fact was brought to his attention, however, by the paper being pushed in front of his face and then withdrawn, and when he looked up a dozen smiling faces made his face turn fairly sallow.

"The fifth is really only a pig. He's not grown, but thinks he is. His nose—that's not the word, but it will do—is retrouse, and the little bristles under it are carefully cared for. He likes to crowd close to a pretty girl and stare at her with such a yearning look. If he sits opposite her his eyes rarely wander from hers. I saw one young woman stare at the feet of one of that sort for five minutes. He pulled them back and fidgeted them about, finally resting on his toes. She kept right on staring and he became very uncomfortable. I'm told that's a sure remedy. He finally got out on the platform.

"The last of the railroad hogs I know, although there may be others, is the one who opens his newspaper so as to shut out the view of those on either side of him. If he'd fold it down the center of the page—but, pshaw! he won't."—New York World.

THE ELEPHANT'S TUSKS.

Some Interesting Facts About the Ivory They Furnish.

Strictly speaking, ivory is equivalent to dentine, the hard substance of which most teeth chiefly consist; but, as commonly accepted, ivory means the dentine of those teeth that are large enough to be of use for industrial purposes, such as the tusks of the elephant, the narwhal, the hippopotamus, the walrus and the sperm whale. The tusks of the elephant are a pair of upper incisor/teeth, which often grow to an enormous size. The extinct mammoths possessed the largest tusks. The African species have the largest teeth of any of the recent elephants. Among the many curiosities to be seen at the London exhibition of 1851, was a pair of African tusks that measured eight feet and six inches in length and twenty-two inches in circumference, and together weighed 325 pounds. The average weight, however, of the African tusks is from twenty to fifty pounds. Captive elephants usually have their tusks shortened, and the ends bound with metal to keep them from splitting, but the tusks continue to grow by reason of the conversion of vascular pulp into ivory, and the shortening operation has to be repeated at intervals. The value of ivory depends upon the size of the tusks; those weighing less than six pounds are not worth more than half the price per pound of really fine tusks. The tusks of the narwhal and the walrus, the teeth of sperm whales, the ear-bones of whales, and the molar teeth of the elephant are all made use of as sources of ivory, though they are not so valuable as the larger tusks. The best and finest quality comes from equatorial Africa. It is much closer in grain than Indian ivory, and has less tendency to become yellow when exposed. It is semi-transparent and of a warm color when first cut, and in this state it is called "green" ivory; as the water dries out of it, it becomes much lighter in color and more opaque.

NOTICE

Johann Hoff has a suit pending against Tarrant & Co., to enjoin them from using the words "Hoff's Malt Extract" for an Extract bottled in their cellars in New York City.

"What a Lovely Complexion!"

"Isn't her complexion charming!" These are expressions we hear every day, made by women in reference to others, which reveal a pardonable envy, and one which can be gratified.

The secret of good health, as indicated by a rich color, and well-rounded figure, is found in a good digestion.

Shopping tours, dances and entertainments indulged in, will leave you utterly fagged out, unless you are obtaining all the value from your food; and it is so easy to accomplish this that you will wonder no one has spoken to you of it before.

Try with each meal, and at bed-time, a wineglassful or more of the Genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Extract, which you will find to be most acceptable to the palate as a beverage, and will lift you right on to the plane of the vivacious and trim-figured sister you admire so much, and who seems capable of enduring endless fatigue.

Then, again, we must remember the nursing mother, where two lives are dependent upon the proper nourishing of the one. Surely nothing can be more valuable to the mother, nor give more comfort to the baby, by producing a generous flow of milk, than the

GENUINE JOHANN HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT.

Defective nutrition is the foundation of all ailments.

A healthy, well-nourished body can withstand almost any disease. There is resistance power in such a body.

I have been taking the Genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Extract myself for a year or so, and find it an excellent tonic and appetizer. Without doubt it is the best Malt Extract in the market.

The Tintometer a Valuable Invention by an Englishman.

A wife may now depend upon her husband to match a piece of ribbon, and she need give herself no concern as to the result. A device, the tintometer, has been invented, by which various shades may be recorded so that there can be no error. The tintometer was recently exhibited in Washington, says the Star. The tintometer is an invention of J. W. Lovibond of Salisbury, England. By its means the color and brilliancy of any object may be measured and recorded so that the tints may be exactly matched at any future time. The color test has to some extent replaced chemical analysis as easier and quicker and equally certain. It is especially adapted for testing the purity of ale, beer, and water, the estimation of carbon in steel, lead contamination in water, valuation of flour and other things. It is constituted of two parallel-sided tubes. A piece of common mirror glass is placed at the two openings which show the equality of light, which must practically be a white light, or as near white as it is possible to get. There are caps placed at the bottom of the tubes, used to measure the glass standards and other little receptacles for measuring liquids. The lecturer illustrated different methods of measuring different materials. The light of a sea fog not contaminated by other light is the standard white light most useful in making tests, said the lecturer. It has been found impracticable to measure daylight, electric light or any direct light, because of the red ray, but by reflecting it through the ground glass and opal it may be so modified as to be useful for purposes of measurement. The tintometer, Mr. Ward said, was used with excellent results by ink manufacturers, dyers and painters. In determining the measurement of steel the instrument, he said, was an invaluable aid. Several lard companies in England and America have used it, and so has the petroleum trust in England. Brewers, sugar refiners and winemakers have also found it a useful instrument. For qualitative analysis, he said, there was no more accurate test. He said that it had also been employed in pathological work in several English hospitals.

WHEN THE EARTH WAS YOUNG.

It Absorbed the Heat That Now, as Coal Serves Other Purposes.

The average householder this winter does not pause to consider the fact that he is keeping his dwelling warm by the heat of the sun's rays which fell upon the earth millions of years ago. Says Dr. Homer Greene: "The solar orb of that vanished epoch, bigger than it is to-day and hotter, brought forth even in this latitude a tropical vegetation of wondrous luxuriance. Plants of strange kinds—mosses as big as forest trees and ferns 30 feet in height—grew up richly from the clayey soil and formed dense jungles in the vast marshes which covered large areas of the surface of this planet. Ferns, mosses, and the leaves, branches and trunks of trees fell and decayed where they grew, only to make the soil more fertile and the next growth more luxuriant. Year after year, century after century, this process of growth and decay went on, until the beds of vegetable matter thus deposited had reached great thickness.

"But the earth's body was still shrinking, and in consequence her crust at times contracted and fell in. When it did so the land sank throughout vast areas. These beds of vegetable matter went down, and over the great marshes the water swept again. Over the deposits the sand and mud and gravel were laid down anew, and the clayey soil from which the next rich growth would spring was spread out on the surface. This process was repeated again and again—as often, indeed, as beams of coal in any coal-bed. Thus the conditions for the formation of coal were made complete, atmospheric air being entirely excluded, while the vegetable beds underwent the process of decomposition."

HIS MOTHER AS CAMILLE.

Ex-Speaker Crisp's Boyhood Recollections of the Stage in America.

Ex-Speaker Crisp's family was of the stage. And, indeed, it was this profession of the theaters by his parents which furnished Sheffield, England, to the ex-speaker as a birthplace. Both Crisp's father and mother were Americans born and bred. And it was while his father was fulfilling an English engagement that the leader of the Georgian Democracy was born. Not only were Crisp's father and mother stage folk, but his brothers as well. One of his brothers perished at the burning Brooklyn theater many years ago. He was playing at that theater at the time. Not long ago Rhea appeared in Washington in the role of Camille; Crisp, then speaker of the house, was in attendance. In the interim between the second and third acts he turned to a gentleman who occupied a seat just behind him. "This is the first time I've been to the theater for many months," said Crisp. "It struck me all at once that I'd like to see this play Camille. I haven't seen Camille since I was a mere boy, many years ago. On that occasion my mother played the part of Camille, while my father was Armand," concluded the speaker, while a smile settled about the corners of his kind, friendly eyes, "while I would not claim that my mother was the greatest Camille that ever lived, I must say that the impression which still dwells with me is that she played it a great deal better than does this lady." At this point the curtain went up and the speaker settled back for the third act and the clustering memories it brought to his train.

"What a charitable woman Mrs. Gabor is."

"Isn't she; why, when the Hinkley failure came on, she sent for Miss Hinkley and gave her all her summer sewing to do, and paid her fifty cents a day for it. It was very nice of her, I think."

"Very; she'll get her reward some time."

"Yes; she's had some reward already. She saved seventy-five cents a day on all the work Miss Hinkley did."—Harper's Bazar.

True to Life.

"The author of the play doesn't like the way you acted the part of Kosciusko," remarked one amateur to another.

"What was the matter?"

"He says you were a regular stick."

"Well," replied the subject of criticism, thoughtfully, "you know Kosciusko was a Pole."—Washington Star.

THE THEORY OF THE DIGESTION OF FOOD.

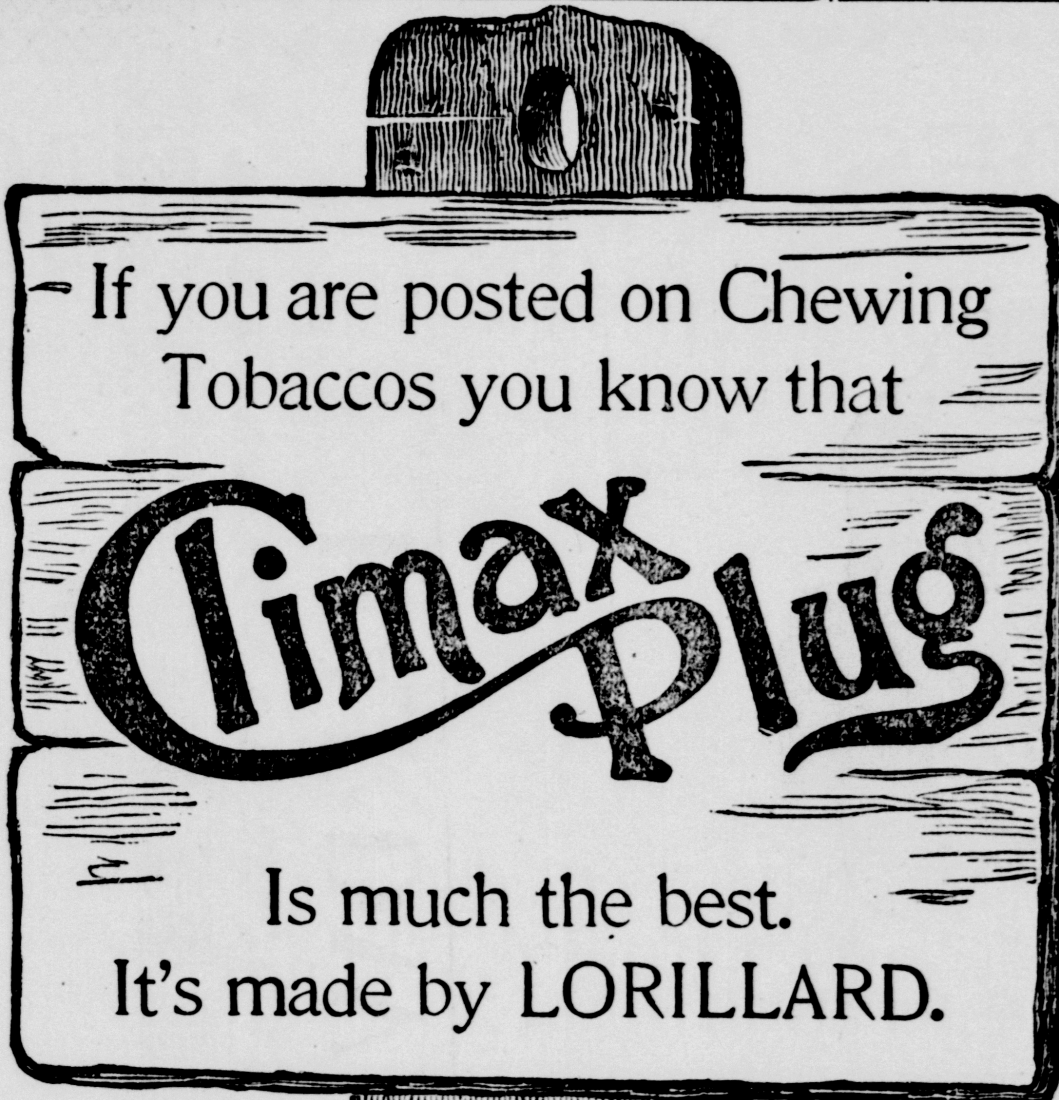

The human stomach is a pear-shaped bag into which all food drops at once when swallowed. Three things happen—the blood rushes into the substance of the stomach (not into its interior) to heat it; thousands of little ducts or pipes pour copiously forth a fluid called the gastric juice, and then, the stomach begins a wave-like churning movement which thoroughly mixes the gastric juice with the food and by-and-by changes the whole into a gray-looking, semi-liquid paste called chyme. This is digestion as it takes place in health.

But, look you! If the stomach fails to furnish the gastric juice, or fails to furnish enough of it, the food simply lies in the stomach and turns sour, putrefies, ferments—as it would in a warm moist air out doors. This is indigestion, dyspepsia or gastritis. Having no other way of escape the poisons so engendered pass into the circulation and set up a train of results like these:—headache, foul taste in the mouth, loss of appetite and nausea, furred tongue; disorders of heart action; nervous weakness and prostration; chills followed by heat flashes; distress and weight in chest after eating; fugitive muscular pains, followed in time by grave local ailments, etc. All this "bear in mind, comes of a more or less complete failure of the stomach to secrete gastric juice.

Having studied this subject for many years the Shakers of Mt. Lebanon (N. Y.)—famous as medicinal chemists and herbalists—sought among the plants cultivated by them only for a remedy which should have the distinct and special effect of stimulating the flow of gastric juice to a normal amount and at the same time of the full, natural digestive strength. No other so-called remedies for dyspepsia have this purpose in view, yet it is the absolutely essential thing, successful in their efforts, even beyond their hopes, they have placed their discovery on the market under the name Shakers Digestive Cordial. Its effects are immediate and radical. Repeatedly it has cured a permanent cure soon follows. It is the sure and scientific remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia.

Confident in their work the Shakers offer trial bottles at the nominal price of ten cents, for sale by nearly all druggists.

The ever-increasing popularity of CLIMAX PLUG can only be attributed to its high quality, delicious flavor, and satisfying substance—three features which all judges of Chewing Tobacco know to be essential.

Is much the best.
It's made by LORILLARD.

Many men ask for a certain brand of tobacco through force of habit, without stopping to think whether there is anything better to be had for the same price. If you want the best, ask for CLIMAX PLUG.

WHEREAS, Julia S. Rodman and Archer W.

Rodman, her husband, of Milton Junction, Rock county, Wisconsin, as mortgagees, have made their certain mortgage to The Wisconsin Trust Company of Milwaukee, a corporation organized, created and existing under the laws of Wisconsin, as mortgagee, to secure the payment of the sum of four thousand dollars and interest thereon, said mortgagee has assigned said mortgage by an instrument in writing, duly executed, acknowledged and delivered to Frederick N. Finney, of the city and county of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, which mortgage was dated the twenty-ninth day of August, A. D. 1892, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said Rock county on the third day of September, A.
